

Stanley Shea High School Captain

Banquet Is Given to Members of the Team

Sunset Pupils Make High Record in Attendance; Basketball Claims Interest of Girls; Highland Park Spellers Get 100 in Spelling; School Girls Learn How to Select Meats When Marketing.

STANLEY SHEA was elected captain of the high school football team for 1914 at a meeting of the high school squad. Harold Caldwell was a close second in the choice. The athletic association decided at this meeting to try to get Allen Stevens to award the boys who played on the team in the Thanksgiving game.

Following the business meeting the football team players were the guests of Sharon S. Urey, the faculty manager, at a banquet at the Sheldon hotel. Mr. Urey was the toastmaster and every member of the team responded with short speeches. Roy Darnall and Harold Caldwell, who graduated in 1914, made farewell speeches to their team mates, and the football team disbanded until next autumn.

Those who attended the banquet were A. H. Hughes, S. O. Weidner, C. C. Golden, Allen Stevens and S. Urey of the faculty; coach George Bell and Palmer Schumacher, Louis Robertson, Taylor Foster, Harold Caldwell, Albert Tatum, Carroll Konar, Will Race, Robert Bryant, Russell Worthington, Carl Fox, Stanley Shea, Harold Bowman, Urban Wagner and Ray Darnall, of the football team.

GIRLS LEARN HOW TO SELECT MEATS

Domestic Science Pupils Are Taken Through Armour Packing Plant

In order to give the girls of the high school domestic science class experience in selecting meats, and in understanding the methods of handling meats, they were taken by Miss Margaret LeBaron, the domestic science instructor, and W. A. Baker, supervisor, through the Armour packing plant Friday. After being shown through all the interesting features of this plant the class visited the Cattle and Horse sales fruit house to see the methods of handling, packing and caring for fruit. Those in the class are at present studying the domestic science class girls of the eighth grade at the Bailey school are beginning the study of the various cuts of meat, preparatory to their practical work with these in the high school course. They are at present drawing charts of cows, with the various cuts indicated.

WILL OPEN SEASON WITH TWO CONTESTS

Inaugurating the basketball season, the high school interschool schedule of basketball games will open with a clash between the Freshman and Sophomores, and another between the Seniors and Juniors at the Y. M. C. A. tonight. The exact lineup of the teams will not be positively determined until before the games begin, but the probable selection of players will be seniors, Louis Robertson, captain, and Paul Masters, forward; Will Race, Elgie Means and Eldon Routledge, guards; Carl Fox and Earl Weisler, centers. Eldon Routledge is the manager of the team. Juniors' team: Orban Walker, center; Dave Hughes, captain; Carl Tipton, forward; Russell Worthington, Carroll Roman and Leonard Butchovsky, guards. On the Sophomore team some of the players will be Cliff Anderson, James Riggs, Harold Caldwell and Palmer Schumacher. For the Freshmen, Albert Tatum will play center; Bob Bryant, captain, and Chris Fox, forward; Cooper McKenny and Maurice Blumenthal, guards.

Lamar Team Organized. A basketball team was organized at the Lamar school with Hubert Littleton elected as captain. Scott Walker and Theo Lochhausen and Paul Broyles will play forwards; Cecil Boyd and Lacy Coulson will play center, and the guards will be Hubert Littleton, Madison Mudd and Luis Marty. This team will be entered in the Grammar School Athletic league, for the schedule of games to be played at the Y. M. C. A.

MANY GET PERFECT SCORE IN SPELLING

The weekly spelling test at the Highland Park school resulted in a number of pupils getting 100. In the first grade the good spellers were Margaret Bage, Lester Alston, Alvie Kamp, Robert Street, Dorothy Miller, Roy Morris, Glenn Venter, John Sweet, Robert Rhoad, Annita Farguson. These in the low second grade were Leda Gemoets and Henrietta Sitter. In the high second grade the good spellers were Annie Louise Barlow and Georgia Mae Coud. For the third grade Carol Alston in the low third, and Virginia Sitter and Helen Lawson in the high third. Gladys Ray and Ode Carter were the good spellers in the low fourth grade and Daisy Vaughan in the high fourth.

MALEFACTOR DESTROYS BED OF CACTI; CHILDREN GRIEVE

Much distress has been caused in the Highland Park school by some malicious person who uprooted the cacti beds which the pupils have been so interested in seeing planted. This school adopted the novel idea of cultivating in decorative beds around the school building the various species of cacti that abound in the district. Elaborate raised beds were built for the plants which were secured with a large amount of special care being taken in selecting good specimens of the different species. At the corners of the school yard yucca plants were set out. This whole garden plan was not only to enable the children to become familiar with the native growth, but since there is no way of caring for a garden bed during the summer the cacti was adopted because of its suitability to the dry conditions. When the children came to school Friday morning they found that during the night their cacti had not only been uprooted but the plants had been deliberately carried away and dumped out in the prairie. There is no present trace of the destroyer. The cacti bed will be replanted next week.

PUPILS WHO ARE DOING THE BEST MANUAL TRAINING WORK

At the Sunset school the boys who are doing the best work in the manual training classes are Howard Fleck and Wagner Dawson. In the low seventh grade; Ignace Baker and Sybil Burdick. In the high seventh grade; Thomas Gleason and Raymond Selly. In the high sixth grade; Willis Ellis and Maurice Winans. In the low sixth and John Dies and Paul Puckett in the high fifth. E. C. Beasley is the manual training instructor for this school.

RUSSIAN FOLK LORE

Russian folk lore, entertained over 45 little youngsters at the children's story hour in the public library Friday afternoon. Mrs. Edith Graham Corne, the librarian who was the story teller, narrated three fairy stories, "Pierovna Frov," "Master of All Masters" and "Cap o' Rushes."

BACON IS ADVANCED TO THE PRESIDENCY

Nominations Are Made by Sun School Society for Vice President; New Office Is Created.

Reminiscences were the chief number of the Sun School Debating society program at its meeting Friday night in the high school. The talks were all extemporaneous, and were both amusing and interesting. George Newell narrated his memories as an elevator boy; Cecil Stanfield told of the time when he was a newspaper carrier, and Thaddeus Keavell's topic was the experiences of an usher. Another feature on the program was the declamation by Harry Welsh, of "Spartacus's address to the gladiators." Following the program, business matters occupied the balance of the evening.

The resignation as president of Frank Peck who graduates in the January class, was accepted and Lucas Bacon, the vice president, was advanced to the presidency. Nominations to be voted upon at the next meeting, were made for the vice presidency, the names of Harold Caldwell, Logan Chilson, Dave Verne Stearns, Maurice Blumenthal, Rupert Gillett and Hugo Becker being presented. A new office, chairman of the auditing committee, was created, and the following were nominated for the office: Walter Fong, George Newell, Maurice Blumenthal and Harold Caldwell.

Four new members were voted upon and accepted into the society, Billy Flato, George Matkin, Lamell Smith and George Melrose.

The boys' team is as follows: Alfred Bryant, captain; Hugh Adkins, Howard Fleck, Haskel Porter, Harry McKim, Harry Brighton, Alfred Oppenheim, Ignace Baker, John Hall, Ross Crowder, Manual Ponsford.

SUNSET PUPILS MAKE ABOVE 90 IN MOST TESTS

One grade of the Sunset school children are doing both the high sixth and low seventh grade work. They are doing such excellent work that almost all the tests taken this quarter brought marks above 90 percent.

HIGH ATTENDANCE RECORD OBTAINED

Four Grades Get Average of 90 Percent in Attendance; Tots Are Punctual, Despite Weather.

In the Sunset school the high third grade, taught by Miss Lucille Smith, stood highest in attendance and punctuality record for the past month. This grade made 89.5-10 percent in attendance and 100 percent in punctuality. The low seventh grade and the low fifth grade have had no tardies since boys' Cecil Stanfield told of the time when he was a newspaper carrier, and Thaddeus Keavell's topic was the experiences of an usher. Another feature on the program was the declamation by Harry Welsh, of "Spartacus's address to the gladiators." Following the program, business matters occupied the balance of the evening.
